Users

Objet Storage Client

User Access Client Access

Cloud Object Storage

Public Network

HAProxy

Proxy Proxy

Management Network

FrontEnd

Object Storage Node

The Cloud Object Storage service can be accessed from a public network both in User Access and Customer Access format. The service is balanced via HAProxys connected to a management network, which in turn contains both the service frontend application and the Object Storage Node, namely, the servers responsible for saving and preserving data.